

FLOWERS WERE NOT FOR JEROME

They Were Two Beautiful Pieces, but Neither the Chair of Roses Nor the Gates Ajar Was for Him.

HIS OFFICE STAFF GREATLY EXCITED.

Floral Tributes, However, Were Intended for Judge Palmieri, and They Were Recalled for His Benefit.

The mystery of the Jerome flowers, the greatest that has troubled the District-Attorney's office for some time, came to a quick solution to-day, satisfying the sleuths and analysts of the Department of Crimes that their theories were all founded on stairs of sand.

Neither Albany nor Tammany is back of it. It was nothing more or less than a case of mistaken identity.

When the two big floral pieces arrived at the District-Attorney's office to-day, one a large chair of roses with thornless stems, the other "gates ajar," the word was passed that Tammany had at last showed its appreciation of the methods of the able District-Attorney and had made up its mind to give him a peek-in, and that the path to the gubernatorial chair, as far as Jerome was concerned, was strewn with roses.

To heighten the symbolic effect there were cards on each floral piece reading: "To William Travers Jerome, District-Attorney of New York County."

That these very "be-u-ti-ful" flowers were not for the District-Attorney or that there was a mistake in identification was not even dreamed of. Even the Assistant District-Attorney and the clerks of the office recognized in a moment that the gifts were nothing but a forecast of the Governorship and a Tammany tribute to one awaiting to be Tammanized.

So William Travers Jerome, sawing wood in Lakewood, smoking cigarettes and thinking of the days that are, maybe, to come, was notified of the floral tributes.

Just about the time the District-Attorney's office was thickest in the mystery a hatless man rushed into the sanatorium where the flowers had been placed as a pedestal.

"It is all one grand mistake," he cried. "It is a mistake. These flowers, they are not for him."

"What do you mean by 'him'?" asked a clerk, as if a scandal had been uttered.

"Ah, the District-Attorney," said the excited one. "They are the tributes of a grateful people, the warm remembrance of friends, the little honor to a great man, our friend, our benefactor. We bought them to show that we appreciate the position to which he has risen. It is our ceremony. We want those flowers, these beautiful flowers. The chair is meant to be a bench and the open gates, the road to the greatness of the future."

"And what did you say his name was?" asked a reporter who was waiting patiently for the solution of what was believed to be another police mystery.

"The great, the good Judge Palmieri!" shouted the informer. With that he picked up the floral pieces and packed them away to the World Building, where Judge Palmieri has his offices.

The floral pieces were bought as a token of the esteem in which the Judge is held by his fellow men. The florist thought they must have been meant for Jerome.

Now they call the floral chair "The Empty Chair" in the Criminal Courts building and the "Gates Ajar," "Not a Peak In."

Bruno Spiess, sometimes called "The Mayor of Bath Beach," was arraigned in the Tombs Court to-day and held on a short affidavit made by Henry A. Breuner, a boy of No. 67 East One Hundred and Fortieth street, charging him with the theft of a check for $795.87.

Bruno Spiess, sometimes called "The Mayor of Bath Beach," was arraigned in the Tombs Court to-day and held on a short affidavit made by Henry A. Breuner, a boy of No. 67 East One Hundred and Fortieth street, charging him with the theft of a check for $795.87.

According to the evidence adduced in court the alleged theft occurred yesterday when Spiess took the check mentioned, which had been drawn by Mrs. Forgettington, of the Equitable Finance Company, of No. 277 Broadway, and deposited it to his credit in the Mechanics' National Bank, Brooklyn.

The boy works for Mrs. Forgettington and claims that he had been sent to Spiess to procure a loan transaction between Spiess and the woman, from whom he has borrowed money on various occasions.

"When I handed the check to Spiess," said the boy, "he kept it, and told me to go on about my own business."

Spiess was arrested in January last on a charge of swindling Mrs. Elinore Van Nuyse, a widow, out of her home and some lots valued at $5,000. He was apprehended with a man named Peter Bogert, Bogert was paroled, but Spiess was held in $2,500 bail. This sum was deposited by a handsome blonde woman around whom a great deal of mystery hung at the time.

The complete Hyomel outfit cost $150, and comprised an inhaler, bottle of Hyomel and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime; and additional bottles of Hyomel can be obtained for 50c. Hegeman & Co., 20 Broadway, will refund the price if Hyomel fails to cure catarrh.

Stomach Dosing Will Not Cure.

Only Way to Cure Catarrh Is by Breathing Hyomel.

Breathed for a few minutes four or five times a day through a hard rubber inhaler that is so small that it can be carried in the vest pocket Hyomel will absolutely destroy all catarrhal germs and cure the disease. Catarrh can never exist where Hyomel is used. It has a two-fold action, destroying the disease germ in the air passages and lungs, and soothing and healing the inflamed mucous membrane.

No other treatment has the endorsement of so many reputable people in all walks of life as this scientific yet common sense cure for catarrh.

Stomach Dosing Will Not Cure.

Only Way to Cure Catarrh Is by Breathing Hyomel.

Breathed for a few minutes four or five times a day through a hard rubber inhaler that is so small that it can be carried in the vest pocket Hyomel will absolutely destroy all catarrhal germs and cure the disease. Catarrh can never exist where Hyomel is used. It has a two-fold action, destroying the disease germ in the air passages and lungs, and soothing and healing the inflamed mucous membrane.

No other treatment has the endorsement of so many reputable people in all walks of life as this scientific yet common sense cure for catarrh.

Stomach Dosing Will Not Cure.

Only Way to Cure Catarrh Is by Breathing Hyomel.

Breathed for a few minutes four or five times a day through a hard rubber inhaler that is so small that it can be carried in the vest pocket Hyomel will absolutely destroy all catarrhal germs and cure the disease. Catarrh can never exist where Hyomel is used. It has a two-fold action, destroying the disease germ in the air passages and lungs, and soothing and healing the inflamed mucous membrane.

No other treatment has the endorsement of so many reputable people in all walks of life as this scientific yet common sense cure for catarrh.

Stomach Dosing Will Not Cure.

Only Way to Cure Catarrh Is by Breathing Hyomel.

Breathed for a few minutes four or five times a day through a hard rubber inhaler that is so small that it can be carried in the vest pocket Hyomel will absolutely destroy all catarrhal germs and cure the disease. Catarrh can never exist where Hyomel is used. It has a two-fold action, destroying the disease germ in the air passages and lungs, and soothing and healing the inflamed mucous membrane.

No other treatment has the endorsement of so many reputable people in all walks of life as this scientific yet common sense cure for catarrh.

Stomach Dosing Will Not Cure.

Only Way to Cure Catarrh Is by Breathing Hyomel.

Breathed for a few minutes four or five times a day through a hard rubber inhaler that is so small that it can be carried in the vest pocket Hyomel will absolutely destroy all catarrhal germs and cure the disease. Catarrh can never exist where Hyomel is used. It has a two-fold action, destroying the disease germ in the air passages and lungs, and soothing and healing the inflamed mucous membrane.

No other treatment has the endorsement of so many reputable people in all walks of life as this scientific yet common sense cure for catarrh.

Stomach Dosing Will Not Cure.

Only Way to Cure Catarrh Is by Breathing Hyomel.

BIG DERRICK CRASHED THROUGH HOUSE ROOF

Iron-Workers Swept Off Perches in Midair by Fall of Structure—One Hurt So Severely He May Die.

The falling of a huge lifting derrick and a twelve-ton steel column from the fourth floor of the skeleton framework of the new Annex on Twenty-fourth street, near Fourth avenue, of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, wrecked the big four-story house at No. 17 East Twenty-fourth street, injuring many of the occupants, swept off a number of iron-workers, who were only saved by clinging to flying cables, probably fatally injuring one workman and showering with wreckage a woman in an adjoining yard. The damage done will amount to thousands of dollars.

The big derrick was erected on the fourth tier of the iron work of the new structure. It was secured on a timber platform by a web of steel cables. Its mast and boom were of steel and wood, more than fifty feet in height, each spars weighing between twenty and thirty tons. The derrick was operated from an engine in the sub-basement, nearly seventy feet below, the engineer lowering and lifting in response to signal given from above.

A small regiment of ironworkers and bricklayers were at work on the upper tiers of the framework to-day when a great twelve-ton beam, two stories high, was set in place and secured by temporary bolts. The chain attached to the haul cable was still fastened around the beam when John W. Scully, the derrick foreman, gave a signal to the engineer in the basement.

Scully insists that he signaled to lower the haul cable so that he could release the chain from the beam. The engineer declares he got a signal to haul away. However the mistake was made, the engineer shoved over the lifting lever and with a tremendous pull the great beam was torn from its bolts.

The resistance it gave, though broken away from its fastenings, snapped a number of supporting stays of the derrick and with a crash that resounded for blocks the twelve-ton beam, the great boom and mast of the derrick and tons of tangled steel cables and stays fell, slanting westward through the iron structure work, the greater part of it alighting on the roof of the adjoining house, crushing it in and tearing off the cornices and upper brick walls.

As the falling cables snapped and swished across the top of the ironwork men were whipped off the iron beams like flies, many having marvellous escapes from death in a sheer drop of nearly a hundred feet to the sub-basement.

John Barrett, forty years old, a bricklayer, of No. 124 East One Hundred and Thirtieth street, was struck by a piece of the wreckage. Three of his ribs were fractured and he received cuts and bruises about the body from which he may die. The injured man was picked up unconscious, but as the derrick had been carried away there was no means of lowering him except by a rope. He was tied up in a bundle of gunny-sack bags and slowly let down to the street, where a great crowd was watching and an ambulance from Bellevue had been summoned.

The beam of the derrick fell astward of the roof of the adjoining building at No. 17 East Twenty-fourth street, which is run as a boarding-house by J. J. Mills, it caved in the center of the roof, precipitating a pile of mortar, bricks and plaster on the floor below, snapped off the cornices of both front and rear and caused all the ceilings and walls in the house to come down with a crash about the ears of the boarders. Two boarders, who were taking a bath, were cut and bruised by the falling plaster.

The twelve-ton iron beam that the derrick lifted from its fastenings fell half across the west supports of the new structure and half into the rear yard of the Mills' boarding-house, knocking out a section of the rear wall as it fell and hurling a mass of bricks on Mrs. Louise Stevenson, the housekeeper, who was in the rear yard. She was cut and bruised about the face and body, but refused to go to the hospital.

House Ruined, He Said. Mr. Mills, who is the proprietor of a number of boarding-houses in the city, told an Evening World reporter that his house was ruined. He said it was the second derrick accident since the new structure had been going up. The noise of the work had driven the majority of his boarders away and he has begun suit against the contractors.

The iron work is in charge of Levering & Ganney, contractors. Neither was in the neighborhood when the derrick fell and Scully, the foreman, was taken to the East Twenty-second street station by Policeman Berry, who witnessed the accident.

Call for FREE EXAMINATION or for full particulars to DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, Inc., 119 West 23d St., between 6th and 7th avenues, in Harlem, New York. Phone—601 Chelsea. Hours daily 11 to 7, Sundays 11 to 3.

A good voice is often a fortune. That fortune may be converted into ready money through the "Musical" advertisements in World Wants.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium. (Incorporated under the laws of New York) FOR THE CURE OF CATARRH, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION.

Call for FREE EXAMINATION or for full particulars to DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, Inc., 119 West 23d St., between 6th and 7th avenues, in Harlem, New York. Phone—601 Chelsea. Hours daily 11 to 7, Sundays 11 to 3.

KOCH'S LENSE cleanses the blood, cures Catarrh, Stomach and Kidney Troubles, Cures all skin diseases, such as Eczema, Psoriasis, etc. at $1.00 a week, $10 a month or $25 for three months at Sanitarium, or sent to your home. Write now that you are in treatment.

A good voice is often a fortune. That fortune may be converted into ready money through the "Musical" advertisements in World Wants.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium. (Incorporated under the laws of New York) FOR THE CURE OF CATARRH, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION.

Call for FREE EXAMINATION or for full particulars to DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, Inc., 119 West 23d St., between 6th and 7th avenues, in Harlem, New York. Phone—601 Chelsea. Hours daily 11 to 7, Sundays 11 to 3.

KOCH'S LENSE cleanses the blood, cures Catarrh, Stomach and Kidney Troubles, Cures all skin diseases, such as Eczema, Psoriasis, etc. at $1.00 a week, $10 a month or $25 for three months at Sanitarium, or sent to your home. Write now that you are in treatment.

A good voice is often a fortune. That fortune may be converted into ready money through the "Musical" advertisements in World Wants.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium. (Incorporated under the laws of New York) FOR THE CURE OF CATARRH, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION.

Call for FREE EXAMINATION or for full particulars to DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, Inc., 119 West 23d St., between 6th and 7th avenues, in Harlem, New York. Phone—601 Chelsea. Hours daily 11 to 7, Sundays 11 to 3.

KOCH'S LENSE cleanses the blood, cures Catarrh, Stomach and Kidney Troubles, Cures all skin diseases, such as Eczema, Psoriasis, etc. at $1.00 a week, $10 a month or $25 for three months at Sanitarium, or sent to your home. Write now that you are in treatment.

A good voice is often a fortune. That fortune may be converted into ready money through the "Musical" advertisements in World Wants.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium. (Incorporated under the laws of New York) FOR THE CURE OF CATARRH, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION.

Call for FREE EXAMINATION or for full particulars to DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, Inc., 119 West 23d St., between 6th and 7th avenues, in Harlem, New York. Phone—601 Chelsea. Hours daily 11 to 7, Sundays 11 to 3.

BIG DERRICK CRASHED THROUGH HOUSE ROOF

Iron-Workers Swept Off Perches in Midair by Fall of Structure—One Hurt So Severely He May Die.

The falling of a huge lifting derrick and a twelve-ton steel column from the fourth floor of the skeleton framework of the new Annex on Twenty-fourth street, near Fourth avenue, of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, wrecked the big four-story house at No. 17 East Twenty-fourth street, injuring many of the occupants, swept off a number of iron-workers, who were only saved by clinging to flying cables, probably fatally injuring one workman and showering with wreckage a woman in an adjoining yard. The damage done will amount to thousands of dollars.

The big derrick was erected on the fourth tier of the iron work of the new structure. It was secured on a timber platform by a web of steel cables. Its mast and boom were of steel and wood, more than fifty feet in height, each spars weighing between twenty and thirty tons. The derrick was operated from an engine in the sub-basement, nearly seventy feet below, the engineer lowering and lifting in response to signal given from above.

A small regiment of ironworkers and bricklayers were at work on the upper tiers of the framework to-day when a great twelve-ton beam, two stories high, was set in place and secured by temporary bolts. The chain attached to the haul cable was still fastened around the beam when John W. Scully, the derrick foreman, gave a signal to the engineer in the basement.

Scully insists that he signaled to lower the haul cable so that he could release the chain from the beam. The engineer declares he got a signal to haul away. However the mistake was made, the engineer shoved over the lifting lever and with a tremendous pull the great beam was torn from its bolts.

The resistance it gave, though broken away from its fastenings, snapped a number of supporting stays of the derrick and with a crash that resounded for blocks the twelve-ton beam, the great boom and mast of the derrick and tons of tangled steel cables and stays fell, slanting westward through the iron structure work, the greater part of it alighting on the roof of the adjoining house, crushing it in and tearing off the cornices and upper brick walls.

As the falling cables snapped and swished across the top of the ironwork men were whipped off the iron beams like flies, many having marvellous escapes from death in a sheer drop of nearly a hundred feet to the sub-basement.

John Barrett, forty years old, a bricklayer, of No. 124 East One Hundred and Thirtieth street, was struck by a piece of the wreckage. Three of his ribs were fractured and he received cuts and bruises about the body from which he may die. The injured man was picked up unconscious, but as the derrick had been carried away there was no means of lowering him except by a rope. He was tied up in a bundle of gunny-sack bags and slowly let down to the street, where a great crowd was watching and an ambulance from Bellevue had been summoned.

The beam of the derrick fell astward of the roof of the adjoining building at No. 17 East Twenty-fourth street, which is run as a boarding-house by J. J. Mills, it caved in the center of the roof, precipitating a pile of mortar, bricks and plaster on the floor below, snapped off the cornices of both front and rear and caused all the ceilings and walls in the house to come down with a crash about the ears of the boarders. Two boarders, who were taking a bath, were cut and bruised by the falling plaster.

The twelve-ton iron beam that the derrick lifted from its fastenings fell half across the west supports of the new structure and half into the rear yard of the Mills' boarding-house, knocking out a section of the rear wall as it fell and hurling a mass of bricks on Mrs. Louise Stevenson, the housekeeper, who was in the rear yard. She was cut and bruised about the face and body, but refused to go to the hospital.

House Ruined, He Said. Mr. Mills, who is the proprietor of a number of boarding-houses in the city, told an Evening World reporter that his house was ruined. He said it was the second derrick accident since the new structure had been going up. The noise of the work had driven the majority of his boarders away and he has begun suit against the contractors.

The iron work is in charge of Levering & Ganney, contractors. Neither was in the neighborhood when the derrick fell and Scully, the foreman, was taken to the East Twenty-second street station by Policeman Berry, who witnessed the accident.

Call for FREE EXAMINATION or for full particulars to DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, Inc., 119 West 23d St., between 6th and 7th avenues, in Harlem, New York. Phone—601 Chelsea. Hours daily 11 to 7, Sundays 11 to 3.

A good voice is often a fortune. That fortune may be converted into ready money through the "Musical" advertisements in World Wants.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium. (Incorporated under the laws of New York) FOR THE CURE OF CATARRH, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION.

Call for FREE EXAMINATION or for full particulars to DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, Inc., 119 West 23d St., between 6th and 7th avenues, in Harlem, New York. Phone—601 Chelsea. Hours daily 11 to 7, Sundays 11 to 3.

KOCH'S LENSE cleanses the blood, cures Catarrh, Stomach and Kidney Troubles, Cures all skin diseases, such as Eczema, Psoriasis, etc. at $1.00 a week, $10 a month or $25 for three months at Sanitarium, or sent to your home. Write now that you are in treatment.

A good voice is often a fortune. That fortune may be converted into ready money through the "Musical" advertisements in World Wants.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium. (Incorporated under the laws of New York) FOR THE CURE OF CATARRH, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION.

Call for FREE EXAMINATION or for full particulars to DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, Inc., 119 West 23d St., between 6th and 7th avenues, in Harlem, New York. Phone—601 Chelsea. Hours daily 11 to 7, Sundays 11 to 3.

KOCH'S LENSE cleanses the blood, cures Catarrh, Stomach and Kidney Troubles, Cures all skin diseases, such as Eczema, Psoriasis, etc. at $1.00 a week, $10 a month or $25 for three months at Sanitarium, or sent to your home. Write now that you are in treatment.

A good voice is often a fortune. That fortune may be converted into ready money through the "Musical" advertisements in World Wants.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium. (Incorporated under the laws of New York) FOR THE CURE OF CATARRH, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION.

Call for FREE EXAMINATION or for full particulars to DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, Inc., 119 West 23d St., between 6th and 7th avenues, in Harlem, New York. Phone—601 Chelsea. Hours daily 11 to 7, Sundays 11 to 3.

KOCH'S LENSE cleanses the blood, cures Catarrh, Stomach and Kidney Troubles, Cures all skin diseases, such as Eczema, Psoriasis, etc. at $1.00 a week, $10 a month or $25 for three months at Sanitarium, or sent to your home. Write now that you are in treatment.

A good voice is often a fortune. That fortune may be converted into ready money through the "Musical" advertisements in World Wants.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium. (Incorporated under the laws of New York) FOR THE CURE OF CATARRH, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION.

Call for FREE EXAMINATION or for full particulars to DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, Inc., 119 West 23d St., between 6th and 7th avenues, in Harlem, New York. Phone—601 Chelsea. Hours daily 11 to 7, Sundays 11 to 3.

BIG DERRICK CRASHED THROUGH HOUSE ROOF

Iron-Workers Swept Off Perches in Midair by Fall of Structure—One Hurt So Severely He May Die.

The falling of a huge lifting derrick and a twelve-ton steel column from the fourth floor of the skeleton framework of the new Annex on Twenty-fourth street, near Fourth avenue, of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, wrecked the big four-story house at No. 17 East Twenty-fourth street, injuring many of the occupants, swept off a number of iron-workers, who were only saved by clinging to flying cables, probably fatally injuring one workman and showering with wreckage a woman in an adjoining yard. The damage done will amount to thousands of dollars.

The big derrick was erected on the fourth tier of the iron work of the new structure. It was secured on a timber platform by a web of steel cables. Its mast and boom were of steel and wood, more than fifty feet in height, each spars weighing between twenty and thirty tons. The derrick was operated from an engine in the sub-basement, nearly seventy feet below, the engineer lowering and lifting in response to signal given from above.

A small regiment of ironworkers and bricklayers were at work on the upper tiers of the framework to-day when a great twelve-ton beam, two stories high, was set in place and secured by temporary bolts. The chain attached to the haul cable was still fastened around the beam when John W. Scully, the derrick foreman, gave a signal to the engineer in the basement.

Scully insists that he signaled to lower the haul cable so that he could release the chain from the beam. The engineer declares he got a signal to haul away. However the mistake was made, the engineer shoved over the lifting lever and with a tremendous pull the great beam was torn from its bolts.

The resistance it gave, though broken away from its fastenings, snapped a number of supporting stays of the derrick and with a crash that resounded for blocks the twelve-ton beam, the great boom and mast of the derrick and tons of tangled steel cables and stays fell, slanting westward through the iron structure work, the greater part of it alighting on the roof of the adjoining house, crushing it in and tearing off the cornices and upper brick walls.

As the falling cables snapped and swished across the top of the ironwork men were whipped off the iron beams like flies, many having marvellous escapes from death in a sheer drop of nearly a hundred feet to the sub-basement.

John Barrett, forty years old, a bricklayer, of No. 124 East One Hundred and Thirtieth street, was struck by a piece of the wreckage. Three of his ribs were fractured and he received cuts and bruises about the body from which he may die. The injured man was picked up unconscious, but as the derrick had been carried away there was no means of lowering him except by a rope. He was tied up in a bundle of gunny-sack bags and slowly let down to the street, where a great crowd was watching and an ambulance from Bellevue had been summoned.

The beam of the derrick fell astward of the roof of the adjoining building at No. 17 East Twenty-fourth street, which is run as a boarding-house by J. J. Mills, it caved in the center of the roof, precipitating a pile of mortar, bricks and plaster on the floor below, snapped off the cornices of both front and rear and caused all the ceilings and walls in the house to come down with a crash about the ears of the boarders. Two boarders, who were taking a bath, were cut and bruised by the falling plaster.

The twelve-ton iron beam that the derrick lifted from its fastenings fell half across the west supports of the new structure and half into the rear yard of the Mills' boarding-house, knocking out a section of the rear wall as it fell and hurling a mass of bricks on Mrs. Louise Stevenson, the housekeeper, who was in the rear yard. She was cut and bruised about the face and body, but refused to go to the hospital.

House Ruined, He Said. Mr. Mills, who is the proprietor of a number of boarding-houses in the city, told an Evening World reporter that his house was ruined. He said it was the second derrick accident since the new structure had been going up. The noise of the work had driven the majority of his boarders away and he has begun suit against the contractors.

The iron work is in charge of Levering & Ganney, contractors. Neither was in the neighborhood when the derrick fell and Scully, the foreman, was taken to the East Twenty-second street station by Policeman Berry, who witnessed the accident.

Call for FREE EXAMINATION or for full particulars to DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, Inc., 119 West 23d St., between 6th and 7th avenues, in Harlem, New York. Phone—601 Chelsea. Hours daily 11 to 7, Sundays 11 to 3.

A good voice is often a fortune. That fortune may be converted into ready money through the "Musical" advertisements in World Wants.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium. (Incorporated under the laws of New York) FOR THE CURE OF CATARRH, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION.

Call for FREE EXAMINATION or for full particulars to DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, Inc., 119 West 23d St., between 6th and 7th avenues, in Harlem, New York. Phone—601 Chelsea. Hours daily 11 to 7, Sundays 11 to 3.

KOCH'S LENSE cleanses the blood, cures Catarrh, Stomach and Kidney Troubles, Cures all skin diseases, such as Eczema, Psoriasis, etc. at $1.00 a week, $10 a month or $25 for three months at Sanitarium, or sent to your home. Write now that you are in treatment.

A good voice is often a fortune. That fortune may be converted into ready money through the "Musical" advertisements in World Wants.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium. (Incorporated under the laws of New York) FOR THE CURE OF CATARRH, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION.

Call for FREE EXAMINATION or for full particulars to DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, Inc., 119 West 23d St., between 6th and 7th avenues, in Harlem, New York. Phone—601 Chelsea. Hours daily 11 to 7, Sundays 11 to 3.

KOCH'S LENSE cleanses the blood, cures Catarrh, Stomach and Kidney Troubles, Cures all skin diseases, such as Eczema, Psoriasis, etc. at $1.00 a week, $10 a month or $25 for three months at Sanitarium, or sent to your home. Write now that you are in treatment.

A good voice is often a fortune. That fortune may be converted into ready money through the "Musical" advertisements in World Wants.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium. (Incorporated under the laws of New York) FOR THE CURE OF CATARRH, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, CONSUMPTION.

Call for FREE EXAMINATION or for full particulars to DR. KOCH'S SANITARIUM, Inc., 119 West 23d St., between 6th and 7th avenues, in Harlem, New York. Phone—601 Chelsea. Hours daily 11 to 7, Sundays 11 to 3.

KOCH'S LENSE cleanses the blood, cures Catarrh, Stomach and Kidney Troubles, Cures all skin diseases, such as Eczema, Psoriasis, etc. at $1.00 a week, $10 a month or $25 for three months at Sanitarium, or sent to your home. Write now that you are in treatment.

A good voice is often a fortune. That fortune may be converted into ready money through the "Musical" advertisements in World Wants.

Dr. Koch's Sanitarium. (Incorporated under the laws of New York) FOR THE CURE